REELSVILLE MEETS CARDS IN LOCAL GYM

UNDEFEATED PUTNAM NET TEAMS WILL CLASH HERE TONIGHT

As result of Reelsville's 64-45 victory over Staunton Friday night, this evening's tilt between the undefeated Indians and the undefeated Fillmore Cardinals in the Greencastle high school gym comes up to the "basketball of the century." A record breaking crowd of Putnam fans is expected to witness the struggle between these rivals.

While Coach Bob Gray's Reelsville netters were seeing to it that their season's record remain unblemished, other county teams were also having their ups and downs.

Cloverdale edged past the Roachdale Hawks in a hard fought contest, 49 to 46. The game was played on the Clovers' gym floor.

Reelsville stopped Marshall, 45 to 42, in a game at Marshall. The Rees held a 23-20 advantage at half time. Allgood and Webster were the big guns in the Reelsville attack.

Bainbridge nosed out a well-guarded Waveland squad, 52 to 48, in an overtime scrap on the Rees' hardwood court.

Bainbridge jumped into a 14-6 lead at the quarter and was held, 24 to 23, at the rest intermission. Waveland rallied to knot the count at 50-all as the fourth period ended, the Pointers winning in the extra session, 52 to 51. Greve with 24 points was outstanding for Waveland while the Reelsville starting five all scored well for the Pointers.

Greencastle's Tiger Cubs, after leading the first three quarters up at Lebanon, were shadowed by the host team, 49 to 48, in a exciting tussle.

Loss of Long and Cowger, high-scoring Cubs, via the personal foul rule did not help the local team. They accounted for 28 of Greencastle's points before leaving the floor.

The Cubs held a 15 to 6 margin at the quarter and were out in front, 22 to 19, at the half. At the end of the third frame it was Greencastle 33, Lebanon 35. The Tigers outpointed the locals, 49 during the final stanza to 49 to 48.

Two Men Dead After Gun Battle

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Thirty Indianapolis policemen, firing machinegun bullets and gas shells into an Indiana house apartment for 45 minutes, today night killed a shotgun-wielding construction worker who had slain another man in the same room.

Police identified the man with the shotgun as Richard LaVelle, 55.

He fell, a police bullet through his brain, beside the shotgun-wielding body of Otis Starks, 29.

Arthur Taylor, 35, living in a nearby apartment, told police he had heard a shotgun fired and saw LaVelle standing with the smoking weapon near Starks' body.

A police squad led by Lt. Harold Morton climbed the stairs to LaVelle's apartment and was greeted by a shotgun charge fired through the door. The officers were sprinkled with shattered plaster from the wall of the hall but unhurt.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

PUTNAM COUNTY HISTORY HIGHLIGHTS—(A story of early Putnam County by Dr. O. F. Overstreet.)—On his return, General Rufus Putnam set his face and feet toward the north-west territory. As head of the great Ohio Company, an Eastern organization to buy 1,500,000 acres of land, he laid out the first settlement in Ohio; Marietta. Having explored most of the territory, the government considered him their highest authority on territorial affairs. He was a participant in every treaty from 1794 to the Indian treaty of 1818 that opened most of Indiana to settlement. The treaty that was of particular interest to what is now Putnam County, was the famous 10 o'clock line treaty concluded by Territorial Governor, William Henry Harrison, at Fort Wayne in 1809. It included that part of Indiana southwest of a straight line extending from a point where Racoon Creek enters the Wabash to what is now Brownstown, Jackson County. The tribal chiefs had so little faith in the white man's documents, that they demanded the shadow on the trees at 10 o'clock in the morning should indicate the line. That treaty opened to settlers what was afterward the southwest corner of Washington township and a small portion of the southwest corner of Cloverdale township.—By 1825 it was generally known that Indianapolis would be the first capital of Indiana, and the National Road was surveyed through to Fort Harrison or Terre Haute. There was a government land office at Vincennes, Fort Harrison and later at the capital. As the

British, Iran Split Is Healed

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Britain and Iran announced today that they had resumed diplomatic relations, broken off more than a year ago, and will work for an early settlement of their long-standing oil dispute.

A joint communique issued in London and Tehran said the two nations will exchange ambassadors without delay.

The communique added that Britain and Iran then will proceed at the earliest moment which can be agreed upon mutually to negotiate a settlement of the dispute over the properties of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, nationalized by Iran two years ago.

The declaration said the two governments are confident that "with good will a solution can be reached."

NOTED AUTHOR IS SPEAKER AT DEPAUW CHAPEL

MAN FACES FOUR MAJOR PROBLEMS SAYS JOHN MASON BROWN

Lecturer-author John Mason Brown covered a multitude of subjects, serious and humorous, in Gohin church yesterday morning during an hour-long address at a DePauw University convocation.

In a serious mood, Brown listed what he considers the four major questions for which mankind long has sought an answer and added a fifth query of his own.

The four major problems which man faces, he said, are how to live with (1) himself, (2) his neighbors, (3) the world beyond his neighbors, and (4) a Supreme Being. The fifth, according to Brown, is how to find serenity necessary for the preservation of dignity.

Great writers consistently have posed and sought to answer those first four, Brown said, adding that he felt the solution of the fifth lay in dedication to the humanities.

He asked his listeners to spend at least part of their leisure in reading and re-reading the classics. And don't read merely "he analyses of these works, he warned; read the originals.

Brown also commented on the so-called "witch-hunting" in government, explaining that he questioned not the need but the methods. "We do not defend ourselves," he said, "by imitating the worst in our enemies."

Ex-County Clerk Sent To Prison

EVAN, Ind., Dec. 5.—(UP)—Emerson O. Williamson, 32, former Switzerland county clerk, was sentenced to one to five years in the state prison Friday on an embezzlement charge.

Williamson pleaded guilty to embezzling $5,726 in county funds while he served as clerk. He resigned last February.

Jefferson-Switzerland Circuit Judge Harry E. Nichols also fined him $100 and costs.

An embezzlement charge against his wife, Isabelle, his chief deputy, was dismissed.

EXTRA!

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The White House plans to release today an analysis of the messages received in response to an appeal by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy for public support in his foreign policy dispute with the administration.

Assistant presidential news secretary Murray Snyder promised a "pro" and "con" breakdown which would show how sentiment was running.

The Wisconsin Republican Senator last Thursday urged persons agreeing with him to telegraph or write President Eisenhower to show what he termed "the will of the people."

McCarthy contended that American aid should be cut off from any nation which continues to trade with Communist China.

ROME, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Italy and Yugoslavia agreed today to immediate removal by both nations of troops which had been rushed to their common frontier because of the dispute over control of zone "A" of Trieste.

The Italian foreign office reported that Premier Giuseppe Pell and Yugoslav minister to Rome Pavle Gregoric had agreed in a Rome meeting today to immediate action by both nations to settle the frontier problems.

MADRID, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Rescue workers struggled through a heavy snowstorm to a crashed Spanish airliner today and the air ministry said that there were 10 survivors including one American among the 32 persons aboard.

The Air Ministry said the only foreign survivor was U. S. diplomatic courier Paul J. Douglass, of West Roxbury, Mass., who was believed carrying a diplomatic pouch to the American embassy in Madrid. He was reported only slightly injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—

(INS)—The House Un-American Activities Committee concludes its San Francisco hearings today following another stormy session in which an FBI-sponsored counterspy told how he and his wife worked inside the Communist party for four years.

Committee Chairman Rep. Harold Velde, R. Ill., said witnesses from the field of labor would testify today, closing a week of probing into Red activities in the San Francisco Bay area.

BIG 3 WILL MEET IN BERLIN WITH RUSSIA

BIG NEWS COMES OUT OF VITAL CONFAB IN BERMUDA

CASTLE HARBOR HOTEL, Bermuda, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The United States, Britain and France reportedly will begin drafting a note to Russia today agreeing to a Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin.

Russia's recent surprise note, accepting the repeated western proposals for a four-power meeting, was talked over yesterday by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Laniel.

They agreed that a meeting with the Russians would do no harm so long as the western nations presented a united front and stood firm on the plans for building Europe's defenses.

The rough draft of a reply, was put together by aides yesterday. Today, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister George Bidault will work on details of the note.

James H. Ringer Gets State Job

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—(UP)—A political friend of Governor Craig was promoted to a commission-plus job today in a move intended to expand sale of state-manufactured and state-grown products.

James H. Ringer, Sullivan county Republican chairman, resigned the $5,700-a-year job as state driven education director to become supervisor of sales in the department of public works and supply. The new job pays $4,800 a year plus a three per cent commission on sales.

Ringer was Craig's choice when a new seventh district GOP chairman was elected recently. He lost to a candidate representing a faction of the party headed by Sens. Homer Capehart and William Jenner.

Public Works director William Clarkson said Ringer will direct four salesmen, who earn $90 a month plus three per cent commission, in boosting sales of state products. These include such items as furniture, manhole covers, food, clothing, soap, brushes, paint and bricks.

Clarkson also announced plans to close a woolen mill at the state reformatory and utilize the space for the furniture-making shop. Furniture demand is up, he said, while the woolen mill lost $35,000 last year.

By law, the state cannot sell on the open market. But its products may be purchased by cities, towns, counties and schools.

Edmond Talucci, director of industries and farms who will be Ringer's boss, said sales volume jumped $20,000 during the first six months of this year as compared to a year ago.

NEW HOSPITAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—(INS)—State health director Dr. Bertram J. Groesbeck today announced plans for opening the new $4.5-million maximum security division of Norman Beatty Memorial Hospital soon after the first of the year.

Dedication has been set tentatively for Jan. 10 and will include addresses by Gov. George N. Craig and other state officials.

Transfer of the 230 prisoners from the Indiana Hospital for Criminal Insane, located within the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City, will take place a few days following the dedication.

-- Good Old Days

settlers came into north Putnam County, a land office was established at Crawfordsville. By 1822 there must have been quite a colony in about Walnut Chapel; at least there was a log schoolhouse built about seven miles southwest of Greencastle, and the almost legendary figure, William H. Thornburgh, was teaching in that school. The sincerity and earnestness of purpose of the pioneers is well illustrated in their demand for a church and a school. In 1825, before the stumps were out of Washington Street, the Methodists had built a log church at Spring Ave. and Washington Street, and a small log schoolhouse was sitting where Bill Layne's filling station now stands. After the 1818 treaty, Greencastle township filled up rapidly. Seniority is given to John Sigler, but about 100 other citizens came in about the same time. Their names are all familiar and many of their descendants still live in the township. Honored as first settlers in the various townships are as follows: Washington,

James Athey; Warren, Dr. Dan Layman; Jefferson, John Sherill, first land entry; Cloverdale, William Hamilton and James Robinson built the first cabins; Mill Creek, Thomas Broadstreet; Madison, Richard Moore; Jackson, William Welch and John Smith built cabins; Franklin, David Swank; Clinton, Asbury Vandever, first land entry; Monroe, Ellis Gibson and James Powell built cabins; Floyd, Joseph Worford; Marion, Reuben Ragan. It would be a mere guess to try and locate the exact roads and trails the pioneers followed to get from the Ohio River to the National Road. Perhaps many of the old roads do not exist at this time. Probably the two best equipped ferries convention to the eastern Kentucky pioneers were at Jeffersonville and about 50 miles down the river at Brandenburg. The latter led to Corydon, Salem, Bedford, Bloomington, and the Bloomington road to Putnam County. The Jeffersonville ferry would reach the same road by way of Paoli and would also point straight north to the Indianapolis area. (Continued next Saturday.)

Purple Aces To Meet Old Gold

Fresh from a 68-64 upset win over St. Joseph's Wednesday, DePauw's cage squad takes on Evansville here Saturday night in its second game of the season and second straight ICC tilt.

The visiting Aces will bring to Bowman gym a high-scoring aggregation which has averaged 92 points per game with a win over Oakland City, 97-58, and a loss to Murray State, 94-88. Two of their big threats are Roscoe Elvin and Carl Neidermeier, both 6'5.

In their opener DePauw's Tigers presented a balanced offense, with four men hitting in the double figures. Gene Loercher, who tied the Puma's Don Merki for scoring honors with 17, was followed by teammates John Peters, 13; Dick Schrier, 11; and Ron McCannack, 11.

Also encouraging to Bengal coach Bob Harvey was the work of sophomores Dave McCracken and John Dehner and senior Roger Naus.

In a see-saw contest, DePauw took the lead at 39-37 and had a nine-point margin at 59-50. But the Pumas trailed by only one point at 64-63 before Peters and Naus tossed in clinchers during the last 30 seconds.

PICTURE ON DISPLAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5 (INS)

An autographed portrait of the last surviving Union Veteran of the Civil War was on permanent display today in the Soldiers and Sailors Monument in Indianapolis.

The photograph of Albert
Woolson 106, of Duluth, Minn.,
by Harry B. Dynes, of Indianapolis.

The idea was inspired by a froth and fury than good sense"

Photograph entitled "Taps," which was exhibited in many of the nation's galleries and so typified the last remaining veteran that Dynes felt Woolson's
obtained for Indiana's fine Civil War collection.

Woolson enlisted as a drummer boy at the age of 14 in 1864 and served with a Minnesota artillery regiment. He lives with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Kobus, in Duluth.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our son and brother, Ralph Meek, who passed away December 5, 1950. We often sit and think of him, when we are all alone. For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own; Like ivy on the withered wall, when all other things decay. Our love for him will still keep green and never fade away. Champion Pays Attention To What Opponents Play

Mr. Muzzy had played the hand previous to this one—an easy contract that should have been made, but wasn't.

Mr. Champion, who never makes an error (he never admitted one, anyway), had the following comment to make. "You never make any inferences from the fall of the cards, Muzzy. In fact, you don't pay any attention at all to what the opponents play."

This remark was to put him in a somewhat embarrassing position after today's deal.

The queen of spades was opened and the defenders rattled off three tricks in that suit. At trick four the shift was to a diamond and Mr. Champion won on the board with the king.

Clearly, the only problem was to avoid the loss of a trump trick. Mr. Champion gave a lot of thought to the possible distribution of the outstanding hearts. He pictured himself as the hero in making one of his favorite plays. This dream involved leading a heart from dummy and finessing the queen.

The queen would hold and he would then go to the board with the ace of clubs and lead the jack of hearts. That would be a devastating play, simultaneously trapping the lone 10 on his left and the guarded king of his right.

But this was all a waste of time. When the deuce of hearts was led at trick five, Mr. Dale promptly played the king.

Unlike Mr. Muzzy, Mr. Champion does pay attention to what the defenders play. If Mr. Dale had started with the lone king of hearts, then Mr. Masters had three to the 10 left. So, after winning with the ace of hearts, Mr. Champion led a small heart and played dummy's nine. Mr. Dale won the setting trick.

There was dead silence for a moment. Then Mr. Muzzy asked, "Is this a typical example of what happens when you pay attention to what the opponents play?" He turned to Mr. Dale. "He's making inferences while you're making lone tens."

LITTLE BOY IN HIS DADDY'S SHOES...

Imitation is one of the basic impulses of human life. From earliest infancy man has learned the ways of life and the paths of progress by imitating others who possess and practice such knowledge. The child learns to walk as the fledgling learns to fly—by imitating its parents.

The impulse to imitate others is stronger in infancy and childhood than at any other period in life. The child is anxious to learn things and to be able to do things as grown-ups do in this great, big interesting world. That is why the little boy in the picture tries to walk in his daddy's shoes.

Children learn to walk in their parents' footsteps in many ways, during this formative period of their lives. They acquire their habits, their mental attitudes and their sense of values mainly from their elders. And these are the things that will most largely determine their characters and shape their courses in the years to come.

This makes it all-important for people to walk uprightly before their children, and lead them in the ways of strength and safety.

Above all, parents should teach their children the dependence of all life upon God, and the value of religion and the Church as the guardian of man's spiritual existence. And this must be done, line upon line and precept upon precept, in practice as well as in words.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
